Correctly-Fitted Glasses Are A Permanent Pleasure

Thousands of eyes are ruined yearly by improperly-fitted glasses, resulting in a weakening of the optic nerve.

The value of glasses depends on the skill of the one that fits them. The finest of glasses, improperly fitted, will injure the eye.

I have the lenses ground and the frames made for each individual case, and pay especial attention to glasses for the relief of headaches, pain in the eyes, blurring of the sight, far sight, near sight, old sight, astigmatism, and all defects of the eyes which can be corrected by glasses.

Elevated Roads Not to Extend Lines.

In order to boost outside real estate values, there are all sorts of reports put in circulation, by advertisement and even certain newspapers, that the South Side "L" is to be extended south from 69th St., south from South Park Ave., from Loomis St. and from Halsted, and probably many other points. We have made inquiries and are reliably informed that there is no extension in this territory even contemplated at this time, and probably will not be for years to come. It is a great wrong to delude people in this way, and with real estate dealers who have this out-of-the-world property to sell, it is nothing less than criminal and dishonest. The surface lines are extending slowly south on some of the principal streets, but no radical changes will be made until the entire matter of subways, consolidation and through routes is determined by the special commission, who are drawing too big salaries to hasten their work and beat themselves out of a job. This is not a "knock" at outside subdivisions—only telling the truth and the real facts about a much-abused argument why people should not buy in districts that have no immediate show of transportation.

The ground on which the Kusel building stands, at the southwest corner of 63d St. and Eggleston Ave., was sold last week by the Chicago Title & Trust company to B. J. Horton for $27,000. Mr. Kusel has a 99-year lease on it, paying $1,500 for the first ten years and $2,000 for the rest of the term.

The Get-Rich-Quick Investments.

It is wonderful how many otherwise careful and sensible people have bought, and are now buying, stocks and bonds that are formed on wind and water. The enormous war profits are exploited to catch some, and the extraordinary profits of automobiles by others. Stocks are sold for cash, or on dollar payments; any old way, just to separate the unwary from their coin. The names of people who have made millions are quoted, but not a word said about the thousands who have gone broke, and the man or woman with a get-rich-quick mind falls a victim. We know of cases where little homes have been mortgaged to invest, and others where the slow accumulated savings have been drawn from the bank and put in these stocks where there is not a thousand-in-one chance of ever getting it out. As a rule, if a project is a safe and good one, the big capital will get it and there will be no occasion to peddle the stock from door to door like a vegetable dealer. The large dividends and "melon cutting" of some of the older firms and companies have set some people crazy on speculation and they find safe and natural investments too slow, and, as a result, there will be a large number of sadly disappointed people when matters settle down to their normal condition.

GREAT DOIN'S ON 63RD STREET.

All of 63rd St. From Wentworth to Wallace Will Be on Dress Parade From Next Saturday, the 21st, to the 28th, Inclusive.

BE SURE TO VISIT 63RD ST.

Under the auspices of the Englewood Commercial association, the week beginning next Saturday, the 21st, to the 28th, inclusive, will be a gala time for the people of the vicinity in the shape of a community entertainment, economy and style exhibit by all the business men on the street.

President Bowen and his excellent committee are completing the arrangements and the program is all "set" for the greatest time ever seen on the street. A program is being drafted for each evening. There will be free vaudeville, moving pictures, band concerts, community singing, and dancing on the newly-paved streets and all free and open to the welcome visitors and friends. There will also be public speaking by orators of renown and some of the biggest guns in the campaign of all parties will be invited to give their views.

The entertainment is a novel one, with none of the disagreeable features of the so-called "carnivals." No outside fakirs or snatch pennies will be allowed, no soliciting or "wheels of fortune," the nuisances of street celebrations.

Everyone will be welcomed and you may be sure that central Englewood will entertain the largest crowds it has ever seen during this gala week. The street will be decorated and illuminated for the occasion and the merchants are already at work making their windows and stores attractive for the occasion. Captain Madden will take personal charge of the street and see that good order is maintained and no rowdy or coarse actions allowed. Make arrangements to visit the street every night if you can, but at any rate don't miss it part of the time. There will be something new each evening.

Miss Bell Wins Scholarship.

Last September, Miss Bell won the $100 Bosley prize in competition, and in June was awarded the gold medal in the Senior vocal class at the Chicago Musical college.

And Englewood Merchants

I aim to give better values to piano purchasers than can be found anywhere in Chicago, and if any customer, after seeing my goods, feels that they can do better elsewhere, I wouldn't blame them one bit if I lost the business.

No interest to pay, lowest prices, good pianos and service after the piano is delivered, makes piano buying safe with me.

If you watch this theatre's program week in and week out you will notice that all the attractions are of the highest grade, with the most popular and best-known stars. Not only this but each picture is offered as soon after date of release as it is possible to book it. You do not find scrap films on the Harvard screen. Every film is as clear as crystal. The reason for this is: The Harvard pays the top prices for pictures and therefore gets the films while they are new and practically unused. This insures the Harvard patrons not only perfect projection but the pleasure and satisfaction of viewing pictures in their complete form unhampered by portion of film removed owing to wear and tear. Film is but celluloid and does not get better with age. To see pictures right you must see them while new.

Program for week as follows:

Friday, Oct 20—Triangle photoplays presents Norma Talmage, with Gladden James, in a great modern society play, "The Social Secretary;" Pathe weekly all the latest events, and a stream comedy. Price the same—Adults 10c children 5c.

Saturday, Oct. 21—Double bill—Matinee 2 to 5:30 p. m.; adults 10c, children 5c. Evening 6:30 to 11 p. m.; adults 15c children 10c The renowned romantic actor Lou Tellegen, in Marguret Turnbull's version of "The Victory of Conscience;" the funniest comedy ever shown, "The Waiters' Ball," in two parts, with Roscoe Arbuckle. Don't miss it. Come early.

Sunday, Oct. 22—Direct from the loop. Continuous 2 to 11 p. m. The Queen of the Screen, Clara Kimball Young, in her latest screen triumph, "The Dark Silence." When any director undertakes the making of a love story combined with the thrilling incidents of the European war, he realizes that he is up against a hard proposition. Such pictures do not lack interest, but they strain every faculty of the director's mind in order that numerous details may be mastered above criticism. The famous director, Albert Capellani, left nothing for the imagination in the production of "The Dark Silence" lest it be the ending of the story. The suspense is tremendous, and those who first see the picture await the final scene with a fast-beating pulse only to find themselves agreeably surprised. If you become tired from seeing pictures with the similarity of plot and circumstance, this is an opportunity to refresh your mind with something new.

Monday, Oct. 23—Earl Williams in "The Nuremburg Witch," Francis Nelson in "The Revolt."

Tuesday, Oct. 24—Nance O'Neil in "The Iron Woman."

Wednesday, Oct. 25—Fannie Ward in "Each Pearl a Tear."

NATIONAL THEATRE

THURSTON, "THE MYSTIC."

Dates from the Chaldean seers and the Hindu mystics the ancient art of magic has its highest modern expression in the skill of Thurston, who will be the attraction at the National week of October 22.

It is said his tricks this year are of the newest and most ingenious variety, and are in the highest degree mystifying. Handsome new stage settings have been provided and they add to the high standard of the performance.

With each passing year Thurston grows in popularity, and each visit he makes shows new development of original ideas and added dexterity. Among the younger theatregoers one frequently hears stories about the great mysteries of Herrman and the great Kellar. These references are usually accompanied by an expression of regret that they had never seen either of these two masters. Thurston shows all that either of the two named did, and then a great deal in addition that is extremely more baffling

Nowadays the prestidigitateur must be much more than that term once implied. He must do big things and carry an entertainment that has the aroma of stifling mystery, the odor of ancient orders of Hindu and Persian wonder workers, and at the same time enter the field of American modern life and do things that stump the people who are shaking skyscrapers out of an office desk drawer, or building passenger train tubes through a solid wall of ocean water.

There is something about Thurston's offerings which makes you leave the theater with a feeling that you're going back to see him again and again, until you've solved the secret of his mysteries. Then you think of some of the things he does, and you realize, smilingly, that it's a hopeless task.

Most of Thurston's new features for this season deal with life in the afterworld, such as the manifestations of spirits and the materialization of ghosts. Other sensations are "Ione," who mysteriously floats about the stage, and a weird playlet which he has named "Pygmaleon and Galatea."

EMPRESS THEATRE

They are coming right along, quick and fast at the Empress theatre and each week's program draws the criticism, "Better than ever," but Manager Harry Mitchell is always hustling and as a result is booking something new and original so that other vaudeville houses are not in his class. As the season is now in full swing, the Empress is getting the best of the lot that travel the big circuit as it catches them while going east or west, north or south, as all must come to Chicago, and most like to spend a few weeks here and before even the downtown houses can get them, the Empress has them booked for an engagement here. That the people appreciate this is shown by the splendid patronage they are paying the house, and in turn this fine patronage warrants the Empress in booking the more expensive attractions that smaller houses or others outside of the "loop" cannot secure.

The very low prices at the Empress are another feature that attracts, as you get so much better and varied a show than any other house can give. People get tired of one class of performance, but good vaudeville with it's changes and variety always attracts and presents something new to the most jaded of appetites for entertainment and amusement. Almost everyone has a few hours off some afternoon or evening, and no better place can be found to spend it than at the Empress, the big vaudeville house on Halsted, near 63rd St. Give them a trial visit and you will become a regular.

His Duties Defined.

E. A. R. THEATRE

The E. A. R. is essentially the neighborhood house for ladies and children, and every effort is made to make their visits to this pretty house most enjoyable. Its cleanliness, superior ventilation and absolute good order is strong in its favor, and the entertaining feature is the music on the big pipe organ by that prince of organists, Robert Stronach, who has few equals and no superiors in the city.

Friday, Oct. 20—Harold Lockwood and May Allison in "Mister 44." Don't get married until you've seen this picture. Paramount Pictograph.

Saturday, Oct. 21—Matinee. Triangle program. Mae Marsh and Robert Harron in "Marriage of Mollie O," five reels. Shirt's two-reel Keystone.

Sunday, Oct. 22, 2 to 11 p. m.—Mary Fuller in "Trial of Chance"; Burton Holmes' Travelogue and Bray cartoon.

Monday, Oct. 23—House Peters and Gail Kane in "Velvet Paw," five reels. See the capitol, the senate and house of representative chambers. This play is wonderful in every sense of the word, so don't fail to see it.

Tuesday, Oct. 24, matinee—Final chapter of Billie Burke, also H. B. Warner in "Shell 43," a wonderful military drama which classes with the highest of Triangle plays.

Wednesday, Oct. 25, matinee—Mary Pickford in "Hulda From Holland," five reels. Pathe News. This is Mary's last picture with Paramount. We have already contracted for all of Mary Pickford's own productions, first run in Englewood.

Thursday, Oct. 24—Cleo Ridgely and Wallace Reid in "House of Golden Windows," five reels. Good comedy.

LINDEN PHOTODROME

Make Linden Your Photoplay House. Remember, Linden Leads; Others Follow.

Friday, Oct. 20—Ruth Stonehouse, in "Love Never Dies." Just too sweet for anything; a picture and story that appeals to all.

Saturday, Oct. 21—The fragrance o' the heather makes sweet the atmosphere of Scotland, where the tragic story of Jean MacDougal is enacted. Jean marries a man she does not love, and the consequence is pain and suffering. This is the story of "The War Bride's Secret," a drama that lays bare a woman's heart; with Virginia Pearson. The Animated Weekly and a Mutt and Jeff cartoon.

Virginia Pearson, in "The War Bride's Secret," Saturday (Tomorrow).

Sunday, October 22—Is a strong-minded woman the equal of a strong-minded man? Nance O'Neil answers this question in "The Iron Woman," with all-star cast. And two other wonderful pictures.

Monday, Oct. 23—H. B. Warner in "The Vagabond Prince." The character of this picture is a modern romantic drama of a prince desiring romance and love. Also Beatrice Fairfax' "Advice to the Lovelorn."

Tuesday, Oct. 24—Helen Holmes, the daredevil of the movies, in a sensational five-reel railroad drama, "The Manager of the B. & A." On the same bill, two reels of slap-stick comedy.

Wednesday, Oct. 25—Jane Grey and Frank Mills in "The Flower of Faith." A powerful story of early frontier life. Circumstance thrusts together a simple country girl and a strong man; provincial standards misinterpret their love, and rugged frontier justice attempts to avenge the supposed wrong. This is a thrilling drama, and it's bound to please you. And other great pictures.

Thursday, Oct. 26—Norma Talmadge in "Fifty-Fifty." See Miss Talmadge as a girl of the studios, possessed of a desire for continuous frolic and adventure. This is said to be her greatest picture. Miss Talmadge needs no introduction, as she will be well remembered for great work in "Children in the House," "Devil's Needle" and "The Social Secretary." Also a Keystone comedy.

Mother Went Down Foot.

"Mother, how does salt grow?" asked Katherine. Mother, who was not up on the subject of minerals, and not wishing to show her ignorance, said: "Now what is the use of asking about it. Why not plant some and find out?"

ENGLEWOOD THEATRE

From the realm of burlesque has never come a show richer in beauty, music and mirth than "Hello, Paris," the glittering bit of novelty which will occupy the stage at the Englewood theatre during the week starting Sunday matinee, October 22, with matinees daily. Characterized as the "Frenchie-Girlie" show from the opening of the season, it has gone this description one better. Scintillating with the spice of life and regal in its essentials of beautiful girls, tuneful music, clever comedians and real humor, it is easily the queen of burlesque attractions.

George A. Clark, the peerless in the line of comedians, is in the first rank of the "Hello, Paris" aggregation and that's sufficient surety of a lively evening or afternoon, also Eleanor Wilson, whom nature has fashioned after its most captivating pattern.

Backing up this unparalleled pair is a supporting company that eclipses any that has ever set foot on the local stage: The "Congress of Beauties" program.

In the supporting company are Irene Meara, soubrette, George A. Clark, the Sterling comedian, and Helen Stewart, the "thinnest woman on the American stage."

Daily Thought.

There are certain times in our life when we find ourselves in circumstances that not only press upon us, but seem to weigh us down altogether. They give us, however, not only the opportunity, but they impose upon us the duty of elevating ourselves, and thereby fulfilling the purpose of the Divine Being in our creation.—Goethe.

Increase In Rate Of Tuition

The rate of tuition in the Harvard Music School is 75 cents per lesson and in addition a small entrance fee is charged. This low rate has been for the purpose of introducing the system.

Only expert teachers are employed and considering the results obtained, due to Harvard Invention the rate of tuition has been very low compared to the cost of an education under the old way. Then the saving of time and effort under the Harvard System is also an important factor.

The cost of lessons in the Harvard Music School will be increased to $3.00 each at an early date. Those enrolled before then, may continue to study indefinitely at the present rate which is 75 cents per lesson.

LET HOME PEOPLE KNOW IT

SOUTHWEST DISTRICT

Edited by the Southwest End Improvement Association.
Persons having news items, advertisements or desiring to subscribe for the Englewood Times please call on or address Mrs. R. J. Dahlin, 7148 Artesian Ave. Tel. Stewart 7272.

We now have mail service twice a day—a joy to all.

Many property owners out here would like to see all cement walks throughout the neighborhood.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Stears and Mr. and Mrs. P. Sommers of 7242 Artesian Ave. were joy riders on Sunday last.

We are also glad to know that Western Ave. is to be paved straight through—a joy to motorists.

We are glad to see the home of Mr. and Mrs. De Masso of 7232 Campbell Ave., which was completely destroyed by fire, being re-erected.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Meyer and Chas. Mickels of 7214 Artesian Ave. spent Sunday in Barrington, Ill., with relatives.

Mr. Edw. Lasko of 5219 Justine St. visited at the home of his sister, Mrs. R. Dahlin, 7148 Artesian Ave., last Sunday.

We are all glad to see another new home being erected on 71st and Rockwell Sts. We welcome them with right good cheer.

The Englewood Times costs but $1 a year. If you are not a subscriber, you should be one, as its news is good, clean facts and can be read by all members of the family.

We are sorry to hear that our neighbor and friend, Mr. Peterson, is compelled to lie in bed for many weeks to come with a broken leg sustained while at work.

Miss S. Brock of 5649 Lincoln St., who is in the hospital suffering with meningitis, is doing nicely and her sister, Mrs. Vondron expects to be able to have her brought home soon.

Mr. and Mrs. O. Engdahl of 5929 Sangamon St. called on Mrs. H. Gustafson and daughter Anna of 7139 Campbell Ave. and took them out for a joy ride, which they enjoyed immensely.

On Saturday evening Mr. and Mrs. M. Schade of 6528 Hermitage Ave. and Mr. and Mrs. R. Dahlin and son, Roy, of 7148 Artesian Ave. and Mrs. O. Gehri of 7059 Western Ave., also Helen Schade, were auto riding, enjoying the evening immensely.

A number of friends gave a surprise party and house warming on Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kocher of 7252 Maplewood Ave. There were 22 guests and they all had the time of their lives, dancing, singing and enjoying some very fine music.

Mr. Max Schade of 6528 Hermitage Ave. called for his friends with his machine and went mushroom hunting, and mushrooms they got, delicious ones, and they enjoyed some ride of about a hundred miles all told. Those in the party were Mr. O. Gehri, Mr. Roy Dahlin and Mr. Wm. Ebert.

It was a shock to see Mr. Smith of 7227 Campbell Ave. being brought home in an ambulance last Friday. We are all more than glad to know that Mr. Smith received no broken limbs when the accident occurred at his place of employment. Mr. and Mrs. Smith have the sympathy and many wishes for a speedy recovery from their neighbors.

TYPICAL OLD VILLAGE CHURCH

Writer's Description of House of Worship Is One That Will Linger in the Memory.

The Methodist church in Berton is a little gray house, with a long-necked belfry. The eaves come very low. The doors on weekdays are like sorrowful eyes closed in prayer for the members who may be doing what they ought not to do. On Sundays they are wide open, like the heart of a good man. The bell in the belfry is not too loud; one of those singing Sabbath bells heard only in village churches. In summer weather the shadows of many leaves fall upon the roof from two great oaks, like phantom wreaths of shade and sun. In winter winds their naked boughs lock arms above it as if they held it, like the love of God, in a firm embrace.

The inside is filled with a brown gloom from the unpainted walls and pews, which have darkened to a deeper, richer tone, very soft and kind.

On the first Sabbath in every month the communion table stands within the altar, a white cloth spread over the bread and the wine, and the two goblets. We still take the sacrament here from a common chalice, decently trusting the Lord to save us from each other's contagion.

If there is anything else in this world so much like the memory of "his loving kindness, oh, how great!" as an old church like this, with the people kneeling, saint and sinner, side by side, about this altar on such a day, neither doubting nor judging one another for the moment, I have never seen it.—From "A Circuit Rider's Widow," by Corra Harris in the Saturday Evening Post.

Typewriter That Reads.

A self-operating eye, which, when attached to a typewriter, enables that machine to copy properly any printed matter properly set before it, is the invention of a Brooklyn electrical engineer. The eye consists of a large sphere having a lens on its front side and a field corresponding to a retina of selenium cells connected with a source of electric current. The eye is mounted on and moves with the carriage of the typewriter and is so focused that the image of but one letter is reflected in it at a time.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

At Least, Just at That Time.

Rastus, the burly colored man, was helping a worse for wear-and-wine student up the dormitory steps, paused and wiped the perspiration from his brow when a bystander felt himself moved to make comment. "What is your official capacity, Rastus?" "Who, me?" was the reply. "Well, I'll tell you right now, boss, and it's this yere. I'm de director ob sports at dis yeah institution ob learnin', yassah, de director ob sports."

Englewood High School News

The Engleboosters are planning to hold a celebration next Wednesday in Junior hall in the event of their passing the 1,000 mark in membership.

A dance will be given by the Engleboosters Friday, November 3, at Odd Fellows' hall.

Ranking with the best of the organizations for the benefit of the students is the placement bureau of Englewood high school conducted by Mr. Bohn. This organization is organized for the purpose of finding employment for students of this school in the morning, after school and on Saturdays. Through this organization many students have found employment in their spare hours. At present Mr. Bohn is trying to find places for two girls to do housework, with their board. He also has on his hands some boys who wish positions as salesmen on Saturdays, and boys capable of acting as bookkeepers and stenographers. Any help from people who wish to employ any of the above will be appreciated.

Two Englewood girls won the city high school doubles championship in the recent High School league tennis tournament for girls. They are: Louise Rutherford, a junior, and Estelle Cox, a senior. The finals were played last week at the Chicago Tennis club. A trophy will be awarded the school by the board and the girls will receive "E's." These emblems are the first ever awarded to girls.

The football team plays Hyde Park next Saturday morning at 10:30 at the Normal Park, 61st and Racine. This game promises to be one of the best this year as neither Englewood or Hyde Park have been defeated this year.

The lightweight soccer team meets Calumet at Ogden Park next Saturday in one of the hardest games of the year.

The Dramatic circle will give an entertainment next Tuesday in the form of a Halloween party.

The alumni of Englewood high school will gather together Friday evening, November 3 in Junior hall. Some of our old talent will furnish the entertainment in an interesting one-act play, a scene from the "Mikado," and solo dance. Refreshments will be served and all are urged to attend and meet their old schoolmates.

The Engleboosters have been the means of doing away with some disagreeable dirt in the form of pencil shavings by placing 12 pencil sharpeners throughout the school.

Under the leadership of Mr. William R. Bowlin the Englewood boys have organized a band. At present there are 20 players in it, but at least 20 more are expected to join. It is the intention of the organization to attend the football games, thereby helping Englewood to win. Later in the season the boys will have uniforms. Arthur Strait, cornet soloist of the Neighborhood House band, has entered our school and will be a member of the school band.

The Girls' Captain ball teams will hold a spread on next Tuesday, October 24, immediately after the lightweight division practice game.

One of our teachers, Miss Rosemary Quinn, is ill with an attack of typhoid fever. Her case is not serious as yet, but may develop into something worse before the week is up.

LITTLE THINGS THAT COUNT

Possible Explanation of Why Some Business Enterprises Fail, While Others Succeed.

"It is an axiom that it is the little things that count, and I never had a better illustration of such logic than an incident in a cigar store the other day," said an observing man.

"I wanted to buy a box of cigars, but it was a busy time of day. The store was crowded and there weren't enough clerks to handle the rush. Customers were impatient and complaining, but that did not help matters a bit, for the clerks were hustling their best.

"When my turn came I asked for a box of cigars of a certain brand. The clerk got them and started to wrap them up. As I did not care to buy goods without looking them over, I asked him to open the box. He did, but lost the small brass tack that held down the cover, so when he closed the box he had to look for another tack.

"Finally he took a tack out of another full box of cigars, but bent it so that it could not be used. Then he looked for an empty box with a tack left in it, but there weren't any. Other customers impatiently watched, grumbling all the time. At last the clerk had to open another box of cigars and take the tack from the box, and with it he nailed my box.

"Now, why didn't that store have extra tacks on hand?"

He Thought It Over.

Mr. Early was an elderly bachelor. He had grown weary of living alone and determined to marry. For a long time he had known the widow Kimball, and he asked her to be his wife. The question was a complete surprise to her, and her reply was a confused "No."

After reflecting a few days, however, she reconsidered the matter, and when she met Mr. Early she said:

"By the way, Mr. Early, do you remember the question you asked me the other day?"

Mr. Early said that he did.

"Well," she continued, "I've been thinking the matter over and I've changed my mind."

"So have I," replied the bachelor.

Effect of Drinking Water.

An analysis of perspiration shows it to be of a poisonous nature, as might be expected when one stops to consider that it is composed of water carrying in solution the waste products of the system. If the colon is impacted, as it is apt to be unless one partakes freely of water, the perspiration is apt to be strong and disagreeable, because it must carry off the foul matter that would otherwise be carried off through the bowels. Likewise, if sufficient fluids are not partaken of, the kidneys are not doing their normal share of carrying off the garbage of the system, and as a consequence the perspiration must do extra work and accordingly become strong and disagreeable.

Do you often get "Busy"

IN telephone operation the Busy signal is given by means of a device which operates electrically whenever the line called for is in use. The operator has no control over it.

In Single-line service, the Busy signal oft repeated on calls for a particular line, indicates that that subscriber has inadequate telephone facilities.

In Party-line service, any one of the subscribers on the line may be using the line of the subscriber you wish to reach

No matter how urgent a message may be, there is no way of getting it through if the line is in use

The operator is in no-wise blameworthy when you get the busy signal.

Rube and Rhubarb.

A deputy sheriff, who was here recently to take back a prisoner, told this story on the jailer in his town. The jailer, although a well-meaning man, is illiterate and spelling is a trifle difficult for him. One day last spring, pencil and paper in hands, he went through the jail to get suggestions from the inmates as to changes in the dietary

"We would like to have some rhubarb," suggested one prisoner.

"You may have it," replied the jailer, who then commenced trying to record the request He began "ru," hastily abandoned that for "reu," and then put "roo" and "rheu" successively Thoroughly exasperated at last he fiercely exclaimed

"Rhubarb be hanged. You'll get cabbage."

Dogs Reared for Human Food.

Among the Chinese a particular species of dog is said to be reared for the table. It is a small dog of a greyhound shape, with a muzzle much more elongated than in terriers. The flesh of black dogs is preferred to that of animals of any other color on account of the greater amount of nutriment the black dogs are supposed to possess.

You Yourself Will Be the Poorer.

If you fail to do the kindly or pleasant act you had thought of, the one for whom it was meant will perhaps not know what he has missed, but will nevertheless be deprived of a pleasure that might have been his, while you yourself will be the poorer for your failure to carry out the kindly impulse.—Exchange.

SULLIVAN'S SENSE AND NONSENSE

She bought a device to mix the bread,
And one to stir the cake;
A fireless stove and a coffee machine
And one to broil the steak.

And into her kitchen, so up-to-date,
It's a pleasure, indeed, to look;
But the family's boarding while she seeks
A machinist who can cook.

Willis—"Then you don't think there is any danger of us New Yorkers ever being prisoners of a foreign foe?" Gillis—"Absolutely none. How could the enemy get in? The trains don't run in the winter, the roads are too muddy in the fall, and the streets are all torn up in the spring, and if they did get in during the summer they'd find everybody away."

A clergyman had taught an old man in his parish to read and found him an apt pupil. Calling at the cottage some time after, he found only the wife at home. "How's John?" he asked. "He is well, thank you," said his wife. "How does he get on with his reading?" "Nicely, sir." "Ah! I suppose he can read his Bible comfortably now?" "Bible, sir! Bless you, he was out of the Bible and into the sporting papers long ago."

A young woman helping to poll a rural district to ascertain the political standing of the population stopped at a big house where a cross-appearing woman answered her ring. "Does Mr. Smith live here?" she asked. "He does," was the answer. "Could you," asked the girl, timidly, "tell me what party he belongs to?" "I can," answered the woman. "Take a good look at me," she went on, with her hands on her hips, "for I'm the party he belongs to and the only one, see."

Englewood Women's Club Monday Meeting.

Big, Busy Business Day, After Refreshing Program of Child Songs by Mrs. Atwood—Charles Caffin, "The Art of Today and Tomorrow" Next Monday—"Christianity and Hinduism" at Morning Study Class.

The music study class gave its first program Monday morning to an alert and agreeable audience. A few announcements were made precedent to the real program which was given by Mrs. Mary Stevenson Atwood, accompanied by Miss Agnes Bodholt. Child verses were sung and interpreted by this gifted woman (a sister of Lucille Stevenson Tewksbury). No programs were in use, the names of the groups of songs being announced from time to time by the soloist and Miss Bodholt, hence the numbers and their composers must go unchronicled. All were delightful, especially "The Prayer of a Tired Child" and its antithesis, "The Goblin." The accompaniments throughout were beautiful in theme and execution.

The first business meeting of the fall season was called promptly at 2 p. m., Mrs. Roberts presiding. Minutes were read and approved and announcements made. The French salon resumed its meetings Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Chase, 1025 East 48th St. As the education department has no meetings till after the holidays, it will conduct reading circles in several private homes on Tuesday mornings. Mrs. Dunn, 7056 Eggleston Ave., will entertain the ladies' studying Angell's "Chapters From Modern Psychology." Mrs. C. S. Clark, 7130 Princeton Ave., will have a class studying "The Subconscious," and Mrs. Swisher, 436 Normal Pkwy., will also receive a class. There will probably be a fourth circle. The club chorus will hereafter hold its morning rehearsals at 9:30 instead of 9:45. Reports were called for next. The following committees and officers responded: Mrs. Earle (read by Mrs. Nichols), the lunch room; Mrs. Tower, treasurer; Mrs. Pendry, librarian; Mrs. Edinger, junior members' social service; Mrs. Buhlig, political science; Mrs. Brown, Woman's Protective league; Mrs. Holmes, Clean Food club; Mrs. Nicholes, Public Art society; Mrs. Leigh, Municipal Art league; and federation reports from Mesdames Thielens, Stebbings, Parker and Roberts. Philanthropics representing the Woman's Protective association ($25), Junior picnic at Neighborhood House ($10), New Garment association ($25), Englewood High-School Social committee ($50), Infant Welfare ($20), Englewood Law and Order league ($50), Englewood branch bureau of charities ($50), and a "first-hanger" at the annual exhibit of Chicago artists ($50), were remembered. Mrs. Roberts gave a detailed account of the closing of the high-school lunch room, pending investigation of the several cases of typhoid which were reported from the school. It is suspected a typhoid carrier has been one of the employees of the lunch room but as yet the Iroquois hospital (where examinations are being made) has not reported finding such a one. Until danger is past the lunch room remains closed.

Next Monday morning the literature class will have its first article on the new subject. Mrs. Avery will speak on "Christianity and Hinduism." Afternoon, "The Art of Today and Tomorrow" by Charles H. Caffin of New York will be the subject. Lucille M. Wynekoup, contralto, will sing.

This afternoon the first of Mrs. Hall's lectures will be given at the Art institute at 2:30 o'clock, "Romanesque Architecture and Sculpture." Club tickets will admit. Members are asked to bring notebooks and pencils and take notes during the afternoon.

Englewood Old Settlers' Banquet

The Englewood Old Settlers' association are preparing for their annual banquet which is to be held at the Masonic temple, 6730 Wentworth Ave. the evening of Thursday, October 26. Anyone who lived in Englewood for 25 years or more is eligible to membership, and a gentleman who is eligible may bring his wife or a lady who is eligible may bring her husband, and the secretary, Mr. Stephen B. Maynard of 836 64th St., especially requests the names of friends who have resided here for 25 years or more, and cordially invites all to come and meet with us on this evening.

There will be no expense excepting the $1 per plate for the banquet and 25 cents per year for dues, and the attendance this year should be the largest and most interesting we have ever had. There will be no long orations or addresses or tiresome proceedings, a few short and pertinent reminiscences are promised and the evening will be one of general reunion and renewing of old friendships.

High School Alumni Meeting

Alumni Association of Englewood High School held its first executive meeting, to arrange its schedule for the coming season. The committee has planned a very full winter's activity. The committee, executive, consists of Alva C. Frederick, president; Mary C. Courtenay, vice president; George D. Kimball, secretary; Dave Barnes, treasurer. A "Big Mixer" will open the season for the alumni. This initial affair will be held at the high school, Friday evening, November 3. The mixer will include a good entertainment, refreshments and dancing. All alumni are urged to come.

GARFIELD W. C. T. U.

The annual meeting of Garfield W. C. T. U. was held at the home of Mrs. Mary Nelson, 5742 Lowe Ave. Reverend Murry conducted devotional reading from the book of Esther, dwelling on the lives of women, found in this book, who stood for temperance. Yearly reports were given by the superintendents of the 12 departments of work taken up the past year. At the Cook county convention, which convened last week, Garfield received honorable mention for excellent work done in distributing posters, literature, white-ribbon recruit work and flower mission work.

The October meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Kleyenstrenber, 5518 5th Ave. Delegates to the county convention, which was held in Austin, reported the largest, best representation of work done at any annual convention. Plans were laid for the coming year's work. We greatly mourn the passing away of Capt. A. R. Palmer, who was our friend and helper.

The Englewood Sunday Evening Club.

It is with pleasure we announce that our guest and speaker before the Englewood Sunday Evening club next Sunday evening, October 22, will be Prof. Greenwood Peabody of Harvard university.

Professor Peabody needs no introduction to a Chicago audience; however, we of Englewood may have heard of him only through the "hearing of the ear," and now we have the opportunity of seeing him and listening to his words of wisdom.

His subject will be "Substitutes for War," and while we are not able to state just what his line of argument may be, we are quite confident that he will touch upon those moral equivalents for war so ably given by Professor James.

Professor Peabody is one of the truly great men of the country. He was born in the city of Boston, and we are able to say of him that "You can tell a Boston man anywhere, but you can't tell him much," it is because he, in this particular, has so abundantly informed his mind that he is a walking encyclopedia of facts and philosophy.

In all probability no one of his numerous works is of more significance than his book on "Jesus Christ and the Social Question." In a very beautiful way he dedicates this work to his wife: "What, then, in its simplest statement, is the relation of the teaching of Jesus to the social question? That teaching is, for those who can receive it, the chief source of this spiritual power, for whose transmission the social order is prepared; and of this transmission of power the humblest of the followers of Jesus may be an instrument. He sanctifies himself for others' sakes, and there is given to him unanticipated effectiveness for social service. He becomes an unobstructed channel for the water of life. 'He that believeth on me, . . . out of his belly shall flow river of living water.' Much there may be in the teaching of Jesus which remains too exalted or obscure to command the honest conviction of the man of the modern world; yet he has found at least the secret of spiritual power. The view of life from above has given him command of the world below; the approach to life from within has made him master of himself; and the direction of life to a spiritual ideal has given him magnanimity, patience and peace. It may not be for him to know the mysteries of the kingdom of heaven, but it is enough if he may prepare the coming of that kingdom, and the great words of Jesus support his ignorance and renew his hope: 'Not every one that saith unto me, Lord, Lord, shall enter into the kingdom of heaven; but he that doeth the will of my Father which is in heaven.'"

Remember that our services are held in the auditorium of the Englewood Presbyterian church, corner of Yale Ave. and West 64th St. Our doors are open at 6:45 o'clock.

Our singer for next Sunday evening is Ruby Campbell Ledward, soprano. Mr. George W. Kurtz, organist, will give a recital promptly at 7:15. The service starts promptly at 7:30. Admission free. Come early. Bring your friends.

Englewood Improvement Ass'n

There will be a meeting of the Englewood Improvement association in Hiram Kelly Library hall Thursday evening, October 26, at eight o'clock.

A full attendance is desired, as matters of importance will be presented for your consideration, one of which will be the securing of a small park and playground. As you will be called upon to help pay for these in other localities, why not have one where it is so badly needed?

Shall the Parks Be Consolidated?

Joint meeting of Hamilton Park Neighborhood council and Thirty-Second Ward Civic league. The most important proposition on the little ballot at the November election will be "the park consolidation bill." This bill will be discussed on Tuesday evening, October 24, at a meeting in the Hamilton Park assembly hall, held under the auspices of the Hamilton Park Neighborhood council and the Thirty-Second Ward Civic league. The meeting will begin promptly at 8:15. Prominent speakers will present both sides of the issue. Opportunity will be given for general discussion. Come, and bring others! Help to realize intelligent action in behalf of our city's parks.

Housewives' League

The help and co-operation of every woman in Englewood is needed in the Housewives' league, in the study of food-supply conditions. This affects your pocketbook. Meeting at Hamilton Park fieldhouse, on Wednesday, October 25, at three o'clock.

WEDDINGS

Flora Francis Married

The marriage of Miss Flora Elizabeth Francis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Francis of 6414 Yale Ave., to Mr. David B. Johnson, took place Saturday afternoon at two o'clock, October 14. Rev. Arthur J. Francis performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Bernice Spensley, and Mr. Arthur L. Francis, brother of the bride, served the groom as best man. Both bride and groom are graduates of Englewood High school. Mr. and Mrs. Johnson are at home to their many friends after November 1 at 5709 Drexel Ave.

Miss Ruth Guthrie Weds

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Guthrie of 247 63d St. announce the marriage of their daughter Ruth to Hiram Merker, Thursday, October 12, at seven p. m., at the home of the bride's parents. The wedding, which was a simple home ceremony, was celebrated by Rev. William H. Robinson, in the presence of the immediate families and a few intimate friends. After November 1 Mr. and Mrs. Merker will be at home at 6307 Yale Ave. The bride has been known to Englewood since her babyhood, and recently has been an employee of the Englewood State bank. The good wishes of many friends attend the young couple in their new life.
